Today's Gospel message about possessions isn't new, but it has special meaning for us in our consumer society. How do we tame our own wants and those of our children? How do we reconcile our concerns about financial security in a capitalist society with the warnings we hear today? Paul challenges us to discern whether we have taken off our old selves and put on our new selves in Christ.

*Teach us to number our days aright,
that we may gain wisdom of heart.*
- Psalm 90:12

Dear Parish Family,

We at Holy Family are striving to become a more inviting and welcoming faith community - I believe it is important that we get to know one another better so that we can pray for, and with, one another better in our worship of God at Mass. That is why I am inviting us to greet one another before Mass, to welcome all who are visiting with us. This is also a good time to ask for prayers for one another for any special intentions you have.

You have noticed that our church bulletins are not put out before Mass. According to the directives for Liturgy from the General Instruction of the Roman Missal (GIRM), one of the duties of the ushers is to hand out the bulletins at the Conclusion of the Sunday Mass. Our ushers and/or greeters will be handing out bulletins at the end of Mass as people leave. This change may take time to get used to, but I'm sure that everyone will adjust.

In the coming weeks you will notice that our greeters and ushers will wear name tags. We do this in a spirit of being more welcoming.

God bless you as you grow more and more in your love relationship with his son, Jesus Christ.

- Fr. Mike
