October 18, 2015

The scriptures present a leader who must suffer and serve others. The disciples were certainly slow learners, as we hear in today's Gospel. But who can blame them? Few of us are willing to rush headlong to the back of the line or embrace lives of suffering and service. We may not be called to suffer like Jesus or the disciples. But we are called to serve.

CHRIST HAS NOT
COME TO BE SERVED
BUT TO SERVE

CATHOLIC STEWARDSHIP APPEAL

The Catholic Stewardship Appeal (CSA 16) officially begins in our parish Oct. 31- Nov. 1. You will soon receive information from Bishop Gaydos through the postal mail. The CSA is our opportunity to come together as one Catholic community to share some of our God-given gifts so that the ministries of the diocese may continue to meet the evangelical, pastoral, educational and humanitarian needs of the people of God of this diocese and beyond. Please take a few moments in the days ahead to ask the Holy Spirit for guidance as you prayerfully ponder your participation in this important process in the life of the diocese. All materials for the Catholic Stewardship Appeal will come to you from the diocese and be returned to them.

Daddy/Daughter Dance

I have spoken with Fr. Mike and Sister Betty and have been given the green light to organize a Daddy/Daughter Dance for our parish in the late winter/early spring of 2016. This is where your help is needed. A meeting will be held on Wednesday, October 21 at 6:30 PM at Parish Center (upstairs). I am looking for anyone who would be willing to help in any way possible. The plan is to have a dinner followed by a dance. The preliminary meeting will consist of an idea session, and hopefully form committees to accomplish some tasks. If you have any questions or comments, or are unable to make the meeting but are interested in helping, contact Ben Devlin @ 248-1797 (H) or 406-4645 (C).
 Thank You and GOD Bless!

TRUE STEWARDSHIP The gospel message proclaimed throughout the New Testament invites us to live in harmony with the world. This is a challenge to care for the world and be stewards of all that God has given us. Like generations before us, we are entrusted with the care of the earth so that generations to follow may enjoy the same gifts. Sometimes, however, we are absorbed into the ways of the world. When we are of the world, we rely heavily on the power of wealth, beauty, fame, and accumulation of material possessions. We want earthly possessions and carelessly turn our hearts from the responsibilities of stewardship and conservation. The readings today challenge us to walk away from the world so that we might inherit our share of God's kingdom. How we live our lives directly reflects our love for God. Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Co.

SUNDAY SOUNDBITE...I've worked in Church communications for many years. Over that time I've met many public relations professionals—talented people who work hard to put out the positive stories about their companies or organizations. Most are devoted to the truth, and deal with negative news honestly and directly. But I suspect some of them might have urged Mark, the author of today's Gospel, to re-consider his portrayal of the disciples!

Mark doesn't paint a very positive portrait. Throughout his Gospel the disciples just don't get it! They misunderstand Jesus' message, engage in behavior contrary to his proclamation of the Kingdom, and abandon him at the end.

Today's passage is a good example, as James and John vie for the top jobs in the hierarchy—right next to the Lord himself. Once more, Jesus must make an example of such behavior, promising that these enterprising brothers will indeed share his lot--but through sharing the cup of suffering. His only wish is that they would choose that outcome through self-giving service.

In a way, I'm glad no one "cleaned up" Mark's portrait of the disciples. It gives me some comfort to hear how they stumbled toward the Kingdom, when I consider my own failings! Their humanness gives us hope that God will work in our lives and will patiently remind us, as Jesus does today, that true greatness comes through serving others.

- Father Greg Friedman with the Sunday Soundbite for St. Anthony Messenger Press, on the web at FranciscanRadio.org.

THANKFULNESS... If you held a mirror up to your life, would it reflect God's love and grace? If you are struggling with this, try changing your attitude from "I want more" to "thank you God for everything you have given me, I have enough to share". This change in perspective will bring you joy through service to others.

"God Shows In Your Face"

*You don't have to tell how you live each day;
you don't have to say if you work or if you play;
A tried, true barometer serves in the place,
however you live, it will show in your face.
The false, the deceit that you bear in your heart
will not stay inside where it got a start;
For sinew and blood are a thin veil of lace -
what you wear in your heart, you wear on your face.
If your life is unselfish, if for others you live,
for not what you get, but how much you give;
If you live close to God in His infinite grace, you don't have to tell it, it shows in your face.*
